Professor Emil Aas Stoltenberg
Assistant Professor, BI Norwegian Business School
Department of Data Science
Phone: +47 970 93 916
Email: emil.a.stoltenberg@bi.no
Note: Note: Emil was my Statistics professor during my second semester at BI. I subsequently served as his teaching assistant for the same course, after which he provided a strong recommendation letter highlighting my performance.

"During my four years as an assistant professor at BI Norwegian Business School in Oslo, I have lectured hundreds of students, both on the bachelor's and the master's level. Qian Zhao belongs to the top one percent of students I have encountered during these five years."

Professor Weiting Yang
Professor, BI Norwegian Business School
Department of Data Science
Phone: Available upon request
Email: wei-ting.yang@bi.no
Note: I worked as a teaching assistant under Weiting's supervision for the Programming course at BI. Following this collaboration, she wrote a recommendation letter recognizing my adaptability, responsibility, and strong team collaboration skills.

"During our collaboration, Qian has shown her adaptability and responsibility. On several occasions, when urgent situations required her assistance—such as stepping in to support another group—she responded promptly and offered timely help. Because of her reliability and willingness to provide help, I believe that she will work well in a team."
